Fremont, CA (IPRWIRE) Tuesday, March 24, 2009 – The Woof Pack, a Fremont pet sitter service, is now announcing that they will be expanding their line of services for the spring season. As the weather gets nicer, people are much more likely to go on vacations, so pet sitters like Rick Delgado, owner of the company, find themselves needing to expand in order to keep up with the business.

The services that are now being added to the company's list are overnight stays, a pet taxi service, and dog bathing. Overnight stays are very popular with pet owners who are going out of town, either for vacation or business, and need someone to stay with their pets. It is important however that they choose someone who is experienced. "Pets are part of the family, and pet owners need to make sure they trust the person taking care of them," says Delgado.

One customer, Aaron Myers, recently went on vacation to Hawaii and requested The Woof Pack to look after his dog, Ty. Aaron had doubts about using the service because it was going to be a long trip. When it was all over he was exceedingly pleased with how Ty was taken care of. "I will definitely recommend The Woof Pack to all my friends, and I know that if I need help in caring for Ty, I will call them in a heartbeat," Aaron said.
